If you want to make a Victorian period corset you will need to book for two days and also buy a corset kit which will include everything you need to make your corset except your fashion fabric layer for which you will need a metre. I have the coutil corset lining fabric available in black or white, the kit cost is £45 which should be included with your booking fee. Please state lining colour black/white.....

For a couture boned bodice I would also suggest two days. If you would like me to cut you a seven panel pattern for this then please include your measurements. I will need the full bust measurement and if you are larger than a C cup then please include your bra size as well.
